

Your business runs on people. We help it run on systems, without losing the people.

PPS Consulting India is an operations transformation firm for founder-led and family-run businesses. We set up a Project Management Office (PMO), redesign workflows and standard operating procedures (SOPs), get the tools you've bought into daily use, and build the team inside your business that runs it all. We do it without losing the culture, speed and flexibility that built the business, and we stay until your own team runs it.

Which of these sounds like your business?

- Everything still goes through you
- Growth has outrun the way work gets done
- You're taking over the family business
- Big projects stall halfway
- You bought the tool. Adoption stalled.

All five come from one cause: the business runs on a few people instead of on systems.

The first step: the PPS Backbone Review

- Four weeks inside your business, the first month of every plan, starting with the four questions from our book, The 4Sync Method.
- A fixed fee of ₹1,50,000 to ₹3,50,000 plus GST and expenses, by the size of the business.
- You get a one-page picture of where the business depends on a few people, your Keep list, one fix working, and the plan.
- Then go on with the plan for your problem, with fees that step down as your team takes over, or stop and keep everything.

How we work

Led by the founders. Rahul Kulkarni leads diagnosis, design, governance and vendor selection; Rashmi Kulkarni leads implementation, adoption and handover. Associates and specialists join as needed.

Confidential. A mutual non-disclosure agreement (NDA) before anyone is interviewed.

With your people. We work inside your business and build the team that runs it, then step back.

Independent. We take no commission from any software vendor we recommend, and we don't pay advisers for introductions.
